David,

As far as the $2000 goes, that is not something that LTSS in home state funded program that you qualify for takes into consideration. As your original referral for services was applying for the that program at all. The only information I need regarding financials is to calculate your monthly cost of services. This includes the monthly income and medical expenses you provided on th

I am authorizing you 4 hours per week of homemaking services with Homecare Services.

With the information you provided on your application, you will have an 8% cost share for your services. This is a suggested payment for those that fall in the 8%. Fee slips are mailed monthl

Regarding medical equipment, LTSS only contracts with certain Durable Medical Equipment providers, so locating an exact product from a contracted provider is not always possible.

Below is the closest I've found so far. It's a Vive Health and the model is LVA1023. Check it out; see what you think. Another option that could possibly work is an over the toilet r

Subject: [EXT] application for food preparation and other household chores

Hi Laura:

Thank you for providing your email. I wanted to follow up both on my application sent in to you through the mail a few days ago, as well as provide to you the direct link to the type of tr appliance of apartment management before I actually test it out for variable functionality.

First, with regard to the application, it had come through some verbal understanding from one or more of the many STATE government conversations - when I had earlier expressed my limit of $2000 as a qualifier for some "benefit" programs without addressing or even mentioning how stimulus checks factor in to such "asset reporting" - that I was told by someone tha like your explanation of that issue since the application you had me complete and sign under "penalty of (criminal) perjury" also did not raise that issue as a matter of concern.

After sending you my application through the mail however, I am being compelled - by the fact that I still see nothing in all of my written records that addresses this issue in any way wh check, I did open up a new banking account for the sole purpose of doing my part to comply with the decree of the UNITED STATES CONGRESS in dedicating these funds for the sole

The local bank that I have allocated for that purpose is the Black Hills Federal Credit Union, located here in Spearfish.

Second, with regard to chore services in the home, Barbara arrived here with numerous ailments about three weeks ago, staying for only a couple of weeks before then leaving again. The company the STATE has hired to assist me with chore services, meal preparation, and shopping as was indicated would be done with the application I sent back to you - has called me because she was unable to make it today. She named to person who would actually be tending to me for only two hours per week (to include meal preparation and shopping, washing

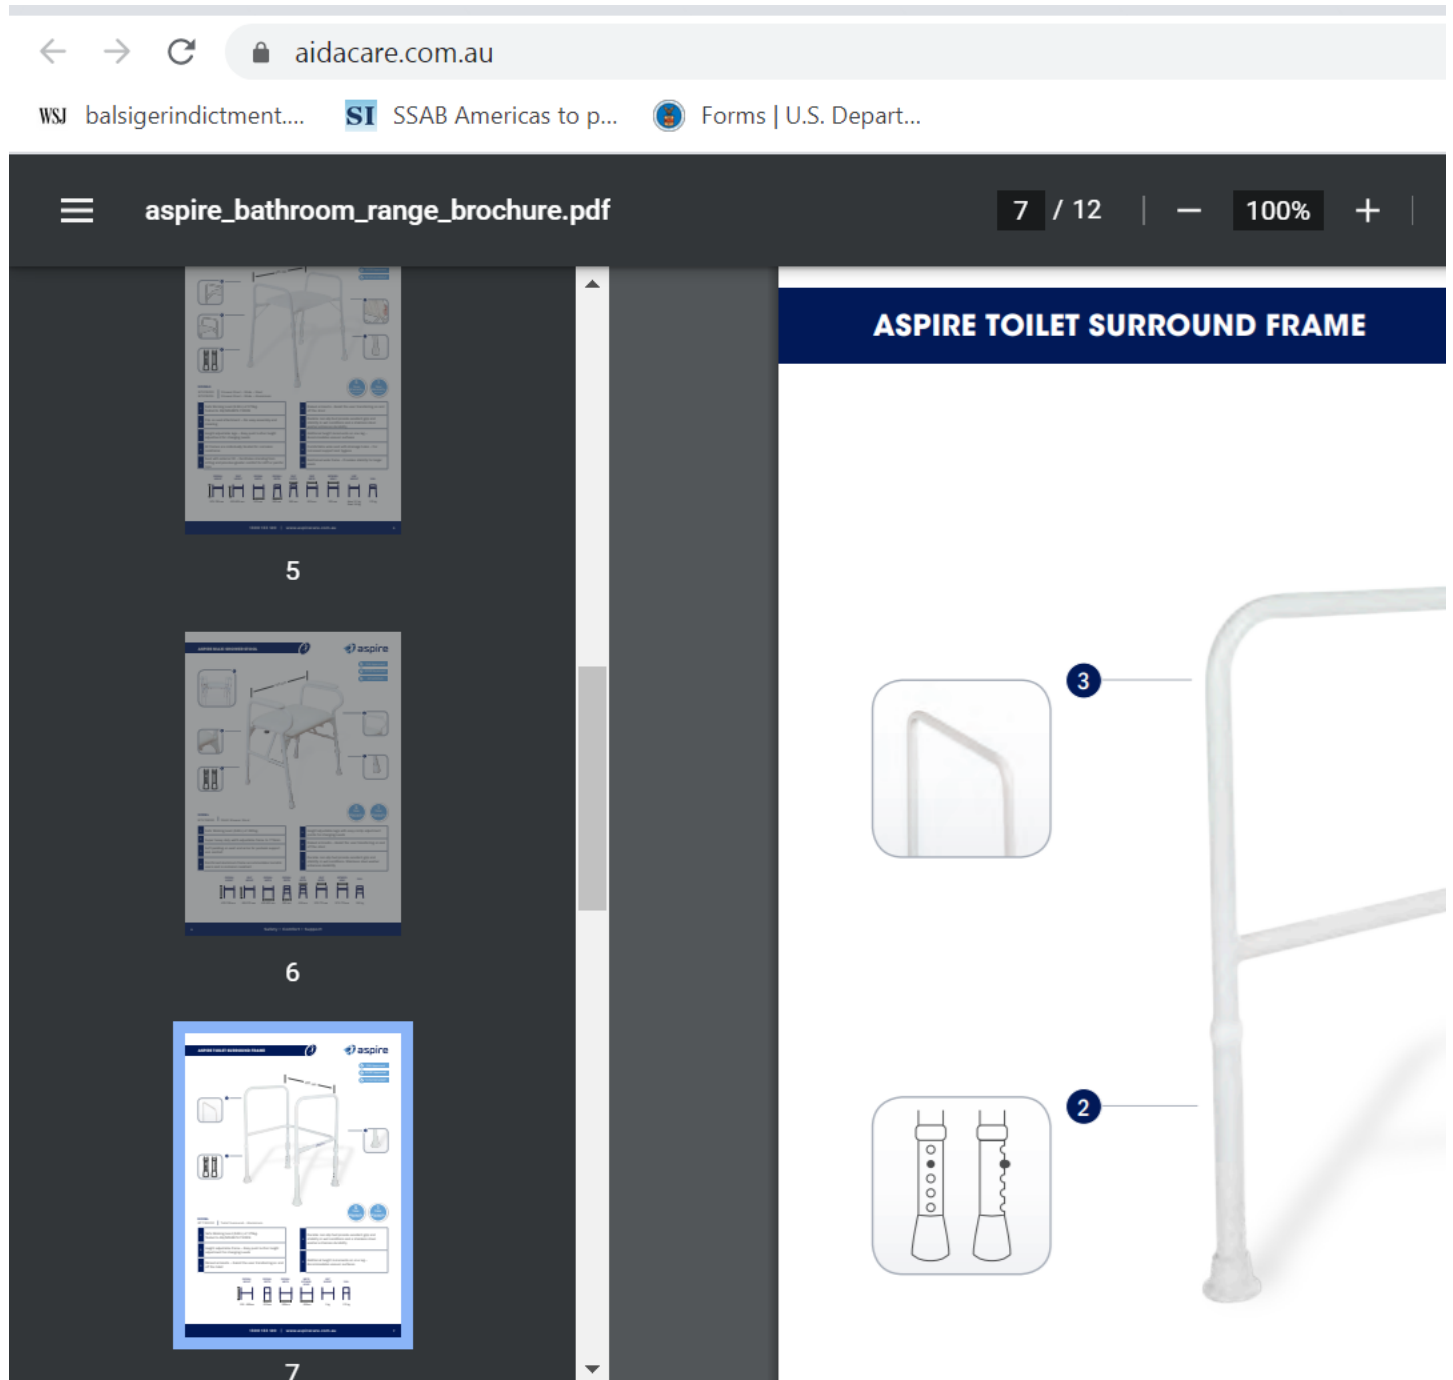

While someone from the STATE had informed me that the cost of this service was to be implemented with me in much the same way as "Meals on Wheels" on a "donation" basis, the 8% and 16% of the total cost. The application also did not have any hourly or weekly or monthly rates to fully inform me of what those costs might be expected to amount to. I would like perjury" also did not raise that issue as a matter of well defined agreement.

Third, with regard to the specific transfer "rails" that I had located and you are having difficulty in locating now, please find the following direct link to that evasive disability mobility appl to your answers to the two outstanding issues that have evaded me in writing by the STATE as referenced above.

Apparently, in just the past couple of months "Walk in Wheels" must have changed their CORPORATE persona to "Aidacare" (see the graphic below)

I did some research in effort to assist you and this is what I found:

This seems to be an Australian company, but I think you can use the link to email them to see if they can lead you to anyone in America that handles their product line. The link below r

I hope this helps.

Cordially yours,
